Zoe McGuire (b. 1996, Albany, NY) is a Brooklyn and Detroit-based artist whose work is predominantly comprised of vibrant oil paintings and charcoal and pastel drawings. Inspired by nature, music, and mysticism, McGuire creates surreal landscapes that hum with a range of vibrant colors and nuanced tonal scales. McGuire received her Bachelor of Arts in 2018 from Skidmore College where she studied art history. Since, she has participated in numerous group shows in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Upstate New York, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, and London. McGuire's work will be shown at Intersect Palm Springs and Spring Break LA with additional group shows at Gaa Gallery, Provincetown, MA; Another Gallery, Los Angeles, CA; and WOAW Gallery, Hong Kong in the coming months. In the next year, she will have solo shows in LA, Paris, and Cologne, among others. McGuire was recently a finalist for the New American Painting's Emerging Artist Grant and will be featured in their 2022 MFA print issue. Currently, McGuire is an MFA candidate at the Cranbrook Academy of Art.
